Class History

In first grade we were fortunate to have Mrs. Ayers and Miss Braden for our teachers. We had a lot of new experiences this year. One time Jim Corbin asked the teacher if he could get a drink, and when she said he could, went home after it. We were sort of mad at the end of the first report period when we didn't get any grades, just "SATISFACTORY".

We entered second grade to find Mrs. Griffith and Mrs. Ayers our teachers. We started right in on readin', writin', and 'rithmetic. We learned some new songs too. (That must be why we have such expert singers in our room now.)

In third grade, with Miss Baker as our teacher, we were eager to get started right away with tonette. This year was the first they dared to put us all together. (The Beaver Falls JUVENILES had left us.)

We started fourth grade to find that it was much harder than the previous years. Every one enjoyed gym, a new subject. We had Mrs. Jayne, a new teacher, for home room.

In fifth grade we were happy to have Mr. Edwards for our home room teacher. Things this year weren't too different than the year before, except a little harder. Most of us enjoyed English for a change.

Sixth grade seemed to be a much more exciting year. Mr. Springer, our teacher, started the band and we were proud to have so many pupils from our room in it.

The first day of seventh grade, we walked in to see Mr. Edwards sitting at the desk again. Everyone was still pretty small, but we all thought we were big. The girls were eager to try out for cheer leader and majorette and the boys for basketball. Mr. Edwards kept the boys busy in geography class doing push-ups.

Everyone enjoyed eighth grade with Miss Clapie as our home room teacher. It isn't any wonder we liked her stories about Dixmont. (She seemed to think most of us belonged there.)

Ninth grade was a success with Mr. Petruska sitting at the desk. We took several interesting trips this year. Mrs. Paterick took us to see a trial and to the polls on election day. Our first big party was held at Christmas time. At some later date a skating party and a trip to Pittsburgh is planned.
